ACQUITTED.

Col. Bourke Receives the Congratulations of His Friends.

Argument in the city vs. Col. Bourke case began in police court at 10:30 this forenoon, lasting one hour, when Mayor Zollinger rendered his decision, acquitting the prisoner. City Prosecutor Colerick, in his opening argument, said that the charge was for associating, knowingly and designedly, with a woman of bad repute. There were two points: Did he associate with her knowing her to be a woman of bad repute, and did he do so with a design? If he did it knowingly he violated the law; if he had a design in doing so, he violated the law. Mr. Colerick then read the ordinance on which the charge was made, and stated that it is made unlawful to be in the company of a prostitute. If Bourke was with the Miller woman in the sense of a good Samaritan, he could have come into court and proved it, but he has not. The Colonel admits that he was in the company of the woman a half dozen times for the purpose of drinking wine, and he places himself in an humiliating position, for we remember that it is through the wine cup that so many women have fallen. We find him soliciting the engineer of the Fleming house stove at night several times, and early in the morning. She has been proved a prostitute and yet the Colonel claims that he was imposed upon and thought he had a virtuous maiden; yet he looks out of the window before leaving with her to see if the coast is clear. That will not do; he can't make us believe he did not know her. Mr. Colerick said he did not desire to prove that anything unlawful had taken place between the Colonel and Julia Miller, but he did prove that the Colonel was associating with a prostitute. In conclusion he stated the distinctions of direct, positive and circumstantial evidence, and compared the Colonel's positive declaration about the woman and the circumstances of his conduct since he had been in the city.

Mr. Irvin Stratton, for the defense, made a lengthy argument, constructing the ordinance into a fallacy of Mr. Colerick's reading. The offense, he said, must have three conjunctives: Proof at the time of association that the person was a common prostitute; second, the defendant's knowing of the fact; third, his association with that knowledge and having a design. The gentleman defined the English meaning of "common prostitute" and claimed the case was presented different from any other. It is the instigation of malice, for there was nothing unusual in their actions. The arrest was unjustifiable, a dirty, mean insinuation conjured up by some one hiding behind the star of Policeman Frank Rohle.

In reply Mr. Colerick said he would rather be the officer behind his star of office, than the great and good "colonel" hiding behind the petticoats of Julia Miller. If the men who swore to Julia Miller's reputation were loafers, was not the "colonel," according to the city ordinance, a vagrant? The testimony was reviewed at some length, presented to the court, and the defendant acquitted.

Let every Democrat in Allen county forget his little animosities, harbor no jealousy towards his neighbor, burnish his armor and strike for victory in November.—Fort Wayne Sentinel.

The acceptance of that advice and a devotion to that policy will be worth five hundred votes to the Democracy of Allen county, and as much to the Democracy.

Disasters on the Lakes—A Steamer and Barge Wrecked—The Work of a Villainous Tramp—The Indiana Constitutional Amendments—Three Persons Murdered in Vermont.

The Trouble Caused by Indian Agent Berry.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—The following dispatch has been received at the Interior Department:

DENVER, Col., Oct. 18.—As there is no telegraphic line to Gunnison City, I am unable to get accurate and reliable reports from there. I have no advices of two companies of State militia having started for the reservation, and I disbelieve the rumor. The information which has reached me is that the sheriff arrested Berry over a week ago at the agency; that Berry persuaded the sheriff to accompany him to Cantonment, about four miles distant, where he escaped from the sheriff. Dispatches have been received here to-day concerning him. One stating that he is secreted by Indians, and the other that he is protected by the commander at the post. I respectfully request you to require the commander of the post to deliver him to the sheriff of Gunnison county, at Gunnison City. This will avoid the necessity of the sheriff having the State forces with him to make the arrest, although his efforts to escape have strengthened the conviction as to his guilt. I have no apprehension as to his personal safety when once in the custody of the sheriff at Gunnison. Capt. Cline has been in jail for about a week without being molested. The sheriff telegraphed me that Berry and others are safe from the mob in Gunnison. If you desire to have the military commander deliver him to the sheriff I shall like to be informed of the decision that I may notify the sheriff at once that further preparations for making the arrest will be unnecessary. (Signed.) FRED. W. PIERCE.

Still Searching for the Alpaca.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Montague, the messenger sent by the Associated Press to Stony Creek yesterday, returned at 2 o'clock this morning with information that the reported cabin washed ashore at that place and supposed to be that of the Alpaca proves to be nothing more than a small portion of the promenade deck of the barge "Trader" which water logged last Monday night. The two sections found near the White Lake piers and supposed to be a part of the Alpaca's wheel rope, belong probably to the Trader. On account of the driftwood and lumber which had been thrown upon the beach and laid in one endless heap six feet in height, patrolmen considered it decidedly useless to look further during the night, and will, therefore, wait till daybreak, when they will continue their search.

The Railroad War.

OMAHA, Oct. 19.—General Ticket Agent Daniels, of the Wabash line, arrived yesterday morning and cut the fare to $8.25 from Omaha to Chicago or $16.00 for the round trip. Tickets unlimited were inaugurated, and over $15,000 worth were sold up to 6 p. m., when the sales were shut down by order from headquarters, leaving many intending to buy unsupplied.

Moody and Sankey held four immense meetings here on Sunday and left to-day for Salt Lake and San Francisco.

U. S. Senator Tipton, candidate for governor, addressed a large mass meeting of Democrats last night.

Congressional Nomination.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—The Democrats of the Seventh district have nominated John Slingslaft for congress.

Pennsylvania Railroad Employees to be Tried for Murder.

PITTSBURGH, PA., October 19.—This forenoon the county authorities took action in regard to the prosecution of the train men found guilty by the coroner's jury of criminal negligence in causing the accident on the Pennsylvania Railroad, at the Twenty-eighth street crossing, on Saturday, October 9th. The proceedings are against John Routh, conductor; Wm. J. Penrod, flagman of the first train, and Engineer Hughey, of the second train, and is for misdemeanor under an act of Assembly. Routh surrendered himself, and is out on $10,000 bail. The others will give themselves up to-day. The commonwealth will likely bring charges of murder.

The Protestant Episcopalians.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—In the Protestant Episcopal convention to-day the committee on new dioceses changing the transactions of the dioceses of Wisconsin and Fondulac, Wis., was adopted. Rev. Dr. Shuttuck, of the committee on expenses made a report, showing that the expenses of the convention the last three years amounted to $11,412. Estimated expenses for the next three years, $96,000. He reports an assessment of $3.00 on each clergyman will probably pay all expenses incurred. Should other expenses arise the report suggests one dollar additional be collected.

A Steam Barge Gone to Pieces.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—The steam barge Trader, which plies between Chicago and Muskegon, and does a lumber business, and which, according to advices and reports of officers of schooners who have seen her wrecked, has been lost and gone to pieces on the east shore of Lake Michigan. She was captured by F. Brown and manned by a crew of ten. She measured 150 tons, was classed B 2, and was valued at $6,000. All hands have probably perished.

A Statement from Mr. Parnell's Secretary.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Mr. Healey, Parnell's secretary, speaking at a land meeting at Bantry county, Cork, declared there were as many evidences of cruelty and injustice on the estate of Hutchins, who with his driver was shot at near Skibberet and the latter killed, as on that of the greatest tyrant in Ireland.

The Foreign Press on Gladstone.

DUBLIN, Oct. 19.—The Cologne Gazette and Berlin Post combine to attack and denounce Gladstone. The former calls him a dangerous fanatic, and attributes the agitation in Ireland to the contagion of his revolutionary schemes in the east. The Post accuses him of pursuing a policy in the east opposed to the true interests of England.

The Work of a Tramp.

READING, PA., October 19.—This forenoon a tramp who was refused something to eat on the farm of G. S. Mowrey set fire to the barn. It was destroyed together with its contents. Three mules and all the cattle perished. The dwelling was considerably damaged. Loss, $10,000. The citizens are in pursuit.

Not Yet Arrested.

CHICAGO, October 19.—A Denver, Colorado, dispatch received here to-day says that Indian Agent Berry has not been arrested. He has been secreted either by the Indians or the United States troops.

Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—For the lower lake region, clear or partly cloudy weather, south west to south east winds, slightly higher temperature, stationary or lower barometer.

More Tidings.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 19.—A Holland Michigan man just in from Venteria, 8 miles north, says that during the night a bucket, two life preservers and a cabin door all marked "Alpaca" came ashore there.

The Constitutional Amendments Again.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 19.—The constitutional amendment question continues to be an absorbing topic of discussion among republicans, and not a few democrats engage in it. A prominent member of the latter party presented the question in a new light to-day. He says the supreme court cannot avoid declaring the recent election void. The famous decision of the court in the case of Swift vs. The State touched only the first amendment pertaining to residences. The other amendments had not the least connection with the case, and were never considered by any judges. According to this the amendments other than the first are still in force as proclaimed by the governor, and the election was held before its legal time. In support of the view may be recited the fact that Samuel M. Hensch, prosecuting attorney of Allen county, filed yesterday afternoon with the governor against issuing a commission to Wm. P. O'Rourke, who was voted for that office in the recent election, on the ground that the third amendment, changing the time of holding the election from October to November, is in force. The point is to see whether the governor will hold that the opinion of the supreme court in the first amendment applies to all the amendments, whether before the court or not. The Republicans are on tender-hooks over the matter, especially the recently successful candidates for State and county offices, and all sorts of opinions are being prepared to show how the election may be made to stand. One of these, in the News to-night, says: "Why not let the question rest on the decision as it now stands? That majority opinion said:

A PROTEST

In the opinion of the court the consequence spoken of in argument of this decision can at most be but a temporary inconvenience. We perceive no irregularity in the proposal of the amendment for ratification. It has simply not been ratified, and not been rejected. The vote upon it was ineffectual for want of the constitutional majority. We see no reason why the general assembly may not resubmit the amendment to the electors of the State under an amended act, such as experience may prove to be sufficient to present the question to the courts if it ever should arise again.

Ticket Punchers in Session.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19.—The 13th annual meeting of the order of railroad conductors of the United States and Canada opened here this morning. Grand Chief Conductor J. B. Mooreford, of the New Jersey Central, presiding. After the appointment of several standing committees and some unimportant business a recess was taken till this afternoon. About one hundred delegates will be present during the meeting which will continue until Friday.

The Wreck of the Alpaca.

CHICAGO, October 19.—The Associated Press correspondent telegraphs from Holland, Michigan, this morning, that a lot of camp-stools, part of the forward deck and inside portions, showing fine graining, and evidently belonging to a passenger steamer, were washed ashore about one mile north of the harbor. A bucket marked "Steamer Alpaca," a spiral stairway and a piano with the lid torn off were found. Men are watching the shore for other portions of the wreck.

Murdered the Whole Family.

WHEELLOCK, Vt., Oct. 19.—This morning Byron Blake murdered his mother, sister and step father with a knife and then hung himself. Insanity was the cause.

National Democratic Ticket

For President,
WINFIELD S. HANCOCK.
Of Pennsylvania.
For Vice-President,
WILLIAM H. ENGLISH,
Of Indiana.

THE reaction has begun and the electoral vote of Indiana will be thrown for Winfield Scott Hancock.

No Democrat should grow lukewarm now. A long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether and all will be well with Winfield Scott Hancock.

Two weeks from to-day a President of the United States will be made and his name will be Winfield Scott Hancock.

At the election on the second day of November in every school district in the State we look for handsome gains over the election of last Tuesday for Winfield Scott Hancock.

JOHN SHERMAN has spoken. He says the result on Tuesday settles nothing for November. The whole battle has got to be fought over. John always was a cold comfort. Vote and work for Winfield Scott Hancock.

NOTWITHSTANDING all their brag and bluster the Republicans show that they do not regard the result in Indiana as decisive. It merely gives them an excuse for making one more desperate rally before their final defeat. Vote and work for Winfield Scott Hancock.

CUYAHOGA, Garfield's native county, did not go into the "favorite son" business to any very great extent. In 1879 it gave a Republican majority of 5,565, and in 1880 one of 3,879, a Democratic gain of 1,686. On the second day of November the Democrats expect to carry Cuyahoga county for Winfield Scott Hancock.

EVERY Democratic club and organization of whatever character in Allen county should maintain its organization intact until after the November election. Keep the fact ever in mind that if the Democrats of Indiana poll the same vote on the 2d of November that they cast on the 12th day of October, the electoral vote of the State will be given to Winfield Scott Hancock.

THE Maine election furnished a surprise; Indiana and Ohio afforded another, and of the opposite kind. In each case the result was just what the superficial observer thought it wouldn't be. Those who think the country is now going with a rush for the Republicans will wake up on the 3d of November to another surprise. It is well to be cautious in taking political results for granted. Work and vote for Winfield Scott Hancock.

The Democracy Aroused.

The crimes perpetrated by the Republicans in Indiana have had the effect of arousing the Democracy of the State, and firing them with unprecedented determination. They declare with one voice that they were robbed of the election by the Republicans, who colonized the State with roughs, and repeaters, and negroes, and bought votes openly. The people feel outraged. Honest Republicans are indignant. They see the barefaced fraud of their own managers glaring at them in returns which exceed the whole number of the voting population, in some places by hundreds. It is not a question now of politics, but whether the people shall have honest elections without intimidation, or fraud, or corruption. The meeting of the leading Democrats of the State at Indianapolis a day or two since was so harmonious and full of cheer as to leave no doubt of the final result. Hancock is stronger than Landers by 10,000 votes at the least. While the Republicans have lost Maine irrevocably, the Democrats will carry this State in November for the hero of Gettysburg—General Winfield Scott Hancock.

Hancock on the Tariff.

"I am too sound an American to advocate any departure from the general features of a policy that has been largely instrumental in building up our industries, and keeping Americans from the competition of the underpaid labor of Europe.

"If we intend to remain honest and pay the public debt, as good people of all parties do, and if we mean to administer the functions of Government, then we must raise the money in some way or other. With a reunited and harmonious country we shall certainly in time pay off the National debt, but the necessity of raising money for the administration of law will continue as long as human nature lasts. All parties agree that the best way for us to raise revenue is largely by the tariff. So far as we are concerned, therefore, all talk about 'Free Trade' is folly.

"But the tariff question will probably be treated with justice to all our interests and people by some such bill as Eaton's. I believe that a commission of intelligent experts, representing both the Government and American industries, will suggest tariff measures that will relieve us of any crudities and inconsistencies existing in our present laws, and confirm to us a system which will be judicious, just, harmonious, and incidentally protective as well as stable in its effect."—General Hancock to Governor Randolph, of New Jersey.

Garfield's Tariff Record.

"Free trade has many advocates, and much can be said in its favor.

"* * * Against the abstract doctrine of free trade as such very little can be said, but it can never be applied to values save in time of peace."

—Garfield in reply to Judge Kelley, in tariff debate in the House.

"Garfield the free trader."—Pittsburgh Gazette, Oct. 15, 1877.

"I have never found General Garfield stand squarely for protection. I do not see how to acquit him of holding the opinions of his British collaborators of the British free trade leagues."—Congressman Kilgus, Oct. 17, 1877.

Garfield voted for free trade in coal.

Garfield voted twice to impose a heavy tax on tea and coffee, and also for a tax on knowledge, in supporting prohibitory duties on paper and printing material.

Garfield thus voted to tax the miners' cup of tea or coffee and his school books, but voted to let in British mined coal free of duty.

Garfield voted to reduce the duty on pig iron in 1879, from $9 to $7 per ton, and in 1872 for a further reduction of seventy cents per ton.

Garfield voted to reduce the duty on railroad iron from eighty to sixty cents per one hundred pounds.

Garfield voted to reduce the duty on sheet iron from No. 20 to No. 25, $3.37 per ton.

Garfield voted to reduce the duty on steel valued at eleven cents per pound, $10.30 per ton.

Garfield voted to reduce the duty on window glass twenty cents per 100 pounds.

Garfield voted to reduce the duty on all manufactures of wool.

Garfield voted to reduce the duty on all cotton manufactures.

Garfield voted against the interest of every wool grower by advocating and voting for the reduction of the duty on all wools.

Garfield voted for every reduction of duty on iron, steel, wool, coal, glass, and cotton and woolen manufactures made the last sixteen years. Every statement here made can be verified by a reference to the Congressional Record.

SENATOR BAYARD has met the Republicans on the tariff issue in a speech at Philadelphia which puts the matter in its true light. They do not care to discuss the question with such a man. Here, for instance, is one of his points: "We have a doctrine, a rule, a principle incorporated into our Constitution, both State and Federal, that private property may be taken for public use upon rendering just compensation; but there is nowhere in this government, in letter or in spirit, to be found the doctrine that public property may be taken for private use. Therefore, in the spirit of levying taxation upon imported merchandise for the sake of raising revenue to pay the just expenses of the government, we have the basis for which the tariff, as it is called, was originally designed. What was the result of this? We did not tax and we do not tax the manufacturer of merchandise made within our borders, and, as a result, if the same merchandise made abroad and approaching our borders is taxed, what is the result? First, revenue to the Treasury, that is the great and justifiable object, and the second is that necessarily—incidentally, as it is called, but logically, and surely, and necessarily—that tax is a barrier of protection to the American citizen who is engaged in the manufacture of that same article. Look, I pray you, at things and not men. Look at substance and not at shadow. We need revenue in this country; the expenses of our Government are great, and with its growth the complication of its interests are apt to increase. Ever since we were a government the American people have preferred, whether wisely or unwisely, to pay the taxes indirectly upon imported merchandise which they consumed to paying it directly. That has been our habit; that has been our custom; that has been the preference of the American people, and I, for one, do not know ten men, much less a party, that propose to abandon the method of raising revenue to support the expenses of our government. In 1861, when the Republican party came into power and were confronted with the enormous difficulties and expenses of a terrible war, they proposed first by their legislation a direct tax, and an act of Congress was passed levying $20,000,000—which in those plain days was thought a great sum—by direct taxation upon the American people; but, fearing lest the pressure of direct taxation should abate the spirit of warfare, the collection of that tax was by law suspended for five years, and in lieu of a direct taxation of $20,000,000, a system of war-tariff taxation was resorted to, and any man who could invent a tax upon any thing that was to be imported was invited to come forward and swell the list. What was the result? A tariff system was created that taxed every thing, and in that spirit of war taxation the great object and result of revenue was lost sight of and forgotten."

Perish in a Storm.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—A dispatch from Buenos Ayres by way of Lisbon to-day says: "A terrific snow storm occurred in this province on the 18th of September and it is estimated 700,000 cattle, 500,000 sheep and 250,000 horses perished."

THE list of publications which D. Lothrop & Co. has prepared for the fall and holiday season is longer and more attractive than ever before, and will appeal strongly to that class of buyers who demand good insides as well as beautiful outsides to the books which are to lie upon their tables or fill their shelves. No publishers in the country pay stricter attention to the character of the works they issue than the Messrs. Lothrop, and the result is that in their entire catalogue of 1,000 different titles there is not a stupid book, an uninteresting book, or a book which does not serve some useful purpose. The parent or teacher can select from it in perfect confidence, and we commend the catalogue to the attention of all who are buying for home or school libraries.

Artemus Ward and the "Michigan Regiment."

In a Louisville, Ky., hotel one day, Artemus Ward was introduced to a colonel who had commanded a Mississippi regiment in the war. Artemus in his way "that was childlike and bland," said: "What Michigan regiment did you command, Colonel?" Then it was that the "Colonel" spun like a top and swore like a sailor, until pacified sufficiently to hear an explanation. Artemus with surprise, observed that he "was always getting mixed about the war." It is always unfortunate to get things mixed, but never more so, than when one is sick. Then it is that the right thing in the right place is wanted more than at any other time in life, or under any other circumstances. It is a pleasure for us to note in this connection, the experience of our esteemed fellow citizen, Col. Samuel H. Taylor, who as is well known does not get things mixed. In a recent communication he writes: "I do hereby certify that I suffered very much from rheumatism and neuralgia during the fall of 1879, and tried many remedies with little if any good results. I had heard of St. Jacobs Oil, and concluded to try it; more as an experiment than with any hope of good results. I can with great pleasure commend it to others, for the reason that I know it cured me." Col. Taylor by the way was at one time postmaster at Cumberland, Maryland.—Washington (Ind.) Gazette.

THE CITY.

There was no police court to-day.

The paving at the corner of Calhoun and Holman streets is being repaired to-day.

The council will not meet to-night, the adjournment having been to the next regular meeting.

Miss Nellie Bruce, of this city, who has been visiting friends in Richmond, has returned home.

The regular monthly social of the Reformed men's club at their hall last night was an enjoyable affair.

Now that the stove pipe season is here thousands will realize that the easiest way to put them up is never to take them down.

Max Snodgrass and William Bennett, of Bluffton, are in town attending the crystal wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Barcus.

This changeable weather is having a good effect on gamblers and camping out parties are quite frequent between here and Defiance.

Physicians report that all danger has passed in the cases of the victims of Friday night's explosion, and all are on the way to speedy recovery.

The man who tumbled over the stove during the summer, rather than take it down, now laughs at his neighbors who took the other course.

Arrangements will be made by the First Voters for nightly meetings in the wards. This new element of power is in earnest and will work hard.

Boys between 8 and 14 are invited to meet at Trinity vestry room on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30, with a view to organizing a boy choir. Instruction free.

Any musician who pants for glory should compose a new song to take the place of "In the Morning by the Bright Light," which is getting to be badly pinaforded.

It is quite probable that Hon. J. K. Edgerton will address the first voters of the city before election, in which event the Allen county Democratic First Voters will turn out in full uniform.

One Sheehan, boarding on Lafayette street, reported to Capt. Smith last night that while drunk he was robbed of a silver watch, and he suspects that some of his fellow boarders are implicated. The matter will be enquired into.

The midnight marauder should not be banished from our dwelling any more quickly than should a cough or cold of any kind be driven from the system. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup quietly yet positively places all colds under its control. Price 25 cents.

Much complaint was heard at the Opera house last evening at the absence of programmes. This is to be regretted by the managers, but was owing to a mistake in making out copy. It is now evident that the average theatre goer must have something to handle during a performance.

A defective flue in the residence corner of Calhoun and Water streets caused an alarm of fire to be turned in from box 5 about 11:30 o'clock this forenoon, which was promptly answered by the department. There was much excitement, but little flame, and a small amount of water averted the danger. The house is owned by Henry Sharp, and occupied by his son John. Damage slight.

Rev. A. W. Mann, mute clergyman, will conduct service and preach in the sign language, for deaf-mutes, at Trinity church this evening. An address will be read orally by the Rev. W. N. Webb. It will contain a history of deaf-mute education—its origin and growth to the present time, and describe methods employed. A few illustrations of the sign language will be given. Service at 7:30. Strangers cordially invited.

AMUSEMENTS.

MITCHELL'S PLEASURE PARTY.
The Grand Opera house boards will be occupied on Thursday evening, by the Wm. C. Mitchell Pleasure Party in the new musical extravaganza of "Our Goblins" or "Fun on the Rhine." The company come well recommended by the eastern press and the piece is spoken of as one replete with mirth. The New York Star, certainly a dramatic authority, says:

"A very large audience gathered at Haverley's Theatre last night to see Wm. C. Mitchell's Pleasure Party in the musical extravaganza 'Our Goblins,' written by Mr. Wm. Gill, the comedian of the party. The piece is modeled after the 'Brook,' but an entertainment eminently suited to the season."

AGNES ROBERTSON.

The Grand Opera house last evening contained a disappointed audience, and it is to be supposed that the stage held an equally disappointed company. The play of "Arrah-na-pogue" has a certain attractiveness in it that never fails to draw unbounded applause when properly presented, but the Agnes Robertson company fell far short of satiating the popular palate. Those who witnessed the first part last evening and left, not wishing to see the remainder, were disappointed with what they had seen; those who came in late and beheld the demerit were placed in a like vein of bad humor, while those who patiently bore with the acting during the entire evening had their satisfaction at the good parts toward the middle of the piece, offset by the general carelessness at each of the ends. The wife of Dion Boucicault should try again.

STAGE STRUCK.

The Holman Opera Company are on a neighboring circuit, and may possibly visit Fort Wayne.

A Toledo gentleman in this city yesterday stated that thus far the season had been much more auspicious here than in Toledo, the companies being of sterling worth and high order. Toledo may, however, come later in the season.

Agnes Robertson goes from here to Indianapolis.

"Oofy Goofy" will be in Fort Wayne about the holidays.

On the 30th Mr. and Mrs. George S. Knight will appear at the Grand Opera house.

Mojeska will be here November 1.

An Old Settler's Birthday Party.

Uncle John Reichelderfer, one of the early settlers and pioneers of Springfield township, celebrated his sixty-ninth birthday on Saturday last. The occasion called together a large number of his relatives, children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. The old gentleman is a representative of that class of men who shared in the privations and hardships of the early settlers, and has with his own hands carved out of the wilderness beautiful homes for himself and children. A hale, hearty old man, always ready to greet his acquaintances with a good word and an honest shake of the hand, a sincere and worthy member of the Lutheran Church, a straight Democrat, having voted the ticket in this township for forty years, everybody knows and highly esteems him. One son, two daughters, nineteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild attended the celebration. There were also present numbers of his old friends and acquaintances. He was the recipient of a large number of presents. Among the number of friends present we noticed our sheriff elect, Frank K. Cosgrove. Frank has always been a great favorite with Uncle John. His amiable wife, to whom he has been wedded nearly half a century, shared with him in the many kind greetings and well wishes of all. The old couple are fine representatives of our early pioneers, and as the hand of Time has been laid but lightly on them, the two bid fair to live a score or more of years in the home of their early struggles.

SPRINGFIELD.

To-Night and To-Morrow.

Rev. A. W. Mann will preach in the sign language at the Trinity church this evening, at 7:30.

There will be a Republican meeting at the Rink to-night.

BASE BALL.

Shall Fort Wayne Have a Nine for 1881.

The season of base ball for 1880 has come to a close, and while, as to results, it has had very little of local significance, it has been the means of bringing to the surface a long smoldering desire for a crack-nine in Fort Wayne for next season. The recent meeting of the league was productive of so much good to independent nines, that almost every city of the size of Fort Wayne is already canvassing the matter, and many of them announce their expectancy of a nine next year.

There certainly is a sporting element in this city capable of sustaining a base ball nine, properly conducted, and Fort Wayne being located on the direct highway traversed by the nines in going over the country, games can be arranged with as little disadvantage as could be possible. Let the lovers of athletic sport canvass this matter among themselves, and, if thought practicable, call a meeting for an interchange of views. The SENTINEL's columns will be open to any laudable enterprise looking to the advancement of the city.

Death of an old Citizen.

At noon yesterday Mr. Herman Heuer, one of Fort Wayne's oldest citizens, died at his residence No. 55 West Wayne street. Deceased was born in Liutorf, Hanover, on the 27th of May, 1819, and consequently was aged 61 years, 4 months and 21 days. He emigrated from Germany to this country on the 25th of July, 1842, arriving in New York on the 11th of September following. In the year 1843 he took up his residence in Fort Wayne and has resided here ever since, a period of thirty-seven years. He was one of our most respected citizens and his many friends were pained to learn of his death. For a period of twenty-five years Mr. Heuer has been identified with the boot and shoe house of Messrs. Schiefer & Sons, and has ever been faithful to the trust confided to him. His funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon, the cortege leaving his late residence, No. 55 West Wayne street, at half-past one o'clock for Emanuel's church, where religious services appropriate to the occasion will be conducted.

A Crystal Wedding.

There have been crystal weddings and crystal weddings, but the one that occurred on East Main street, last evening, with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Barcus as celebrants, far eclipsed anything of the kind Fort Wayne society has had the pleasure of attending for some time. At an early hour the guests began to arrive, each conveying some costly and artistic memento of honor and affection. The rooms of the Barcus family were brilliantly lighted, and the 100 guests enjoyed the occasion wonderfully. Social intercourse was the order of the evening, while music and dancing interspersed the wild bursts of mirth and jollity. Among the presents were many of great value, but it would be unwise to discriminate, every article being priceless in affection, and around which will cluster the bright memories of the givers. In common with those present, the general public will unite in congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Barcus.

The First Voters.

There was an enthusiastic meeting of First Voters at the Democratic headquarters last evening, and speeches were made by several young men who voted on last Tuesday for the first time. In addition to the usual routine business the chairman was instructed to appoint a committee of three in each ward to look specially after the issues of the hour, endeavor to convince them to vote the honest Democratic ticket. Resolutions were introduced and adopted looking to continue work in the wards, and great interest was manifested among the brethren. One minute speeches were the order later in the evening, and the meeting broke up with cheers for the Democratic standard bearers.

Local Politics.

Jollification is O. K., but remember you are not out of the woods yet.

Two weeks from to-day occurs the grand political demonstration, when Indiana will cast her electoral votes for Hancock and English.

This is not our funeral, but we are friends of the family.

We will see you later—in November.

To the Tax-payers of Allen County.

Notice is hereby given that Monday, the first day of November, 1880, is the last day for the payment of county taxes without a penalty of ten per cent. The law attaches a penalty after that date. The county treasurer's office will be open in the evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock to receive county taxes, from and after the 18th day of October, 1880, until close of tax-paying.
